CHARITY RISK FOCUS

The latest news and insights from Gallagher's Charities team

Welcome to the first edition of Charity Risk Focus — your update from Gallagher's Charities team, helping you stay ahead in today's challenging risk landscape.

In this edition, we explore the critical cyber threats facing CLUK members today, how and why you should keep your building reinstatement values up-to-date, and what Martyn's Law could mean for your public events in 2024.

Navigating Cyber Threats in the Charity Sector

With increased online operations and digital fundraising comes a heightened risk of cybercrime for charities. Learn about the types of threats to look out for, how and when to report a cyber incident, and the steps you can take to safeguard your charity in a digital world.

Property Underinsurance: An Often Overlooked Risk for Charities

Inflation continues to bite and could mean the value of your organisation's property in insurance terms (the total rebuild cost) may have risen significantly. Any property claim you make — however large or small — may not pay out what you expect if there is a mismatch between these two sums.

Martyn's Law and Summer Events

If you're hosting any events this summer, it's important to be aware of the guidance included in Martyn's Law — otherwise known as the Terrorism (Protection of Premises) Bill. We outline the rules and considerations for venues and how to incorporate these into your event planning.

About Gallagher's Charity and Healthcare Division

We work with more than 20 Community Leisure UK trusts to help them manage and mitigate the risks they face in the not-for-profit sector.

As one of the leading UK insurance brokers for charitable, voluntary, and not-for-profit organisations, Gallagher looks after all kinds of charities — from small community groups to national and international organisations.

We work with more than 8,500 voluntary and care sector clients in the UK, including leisure and cultural trusts, supporting them with their insurance needs. We also offer a range of risk management services to help our clients better understand, manage, and mitigate the complex risks they face today.
